

Grudes Ateljé & Stentryckeri

Grudes Studio & Limestone print museum

In exhibitions the museum tells the fantastic history about the foundation to our modern communication society.

The lithographers were proud men of their profession who gladly saved examples of work well done. The museum owns a collection of posters from the start of 2000th century. There are, in the collections also approximately 900 lithographic limestones with old motifs. Our goal is to keep lithography alive.

With workshops, school activities, visiting lithographers and exhibitions we show and practice the original direct print in old presses and in the high speed printing press “Johanna”.

Opening hours

Summertime May - September the museum is open every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday 11-15.30 and Sunday 11-16.

During winter, the museum does not keep regular opening hours, but we always welcome visitors by agreement. Most of the time we are at the museum, so if you're in the neighbourhood, ring the bell.
